

Since ancient times it's been the case that those who speak too much are criticised, as are those who speak too little and also those who don't speak at all.
Everyone in this world is criticised.

