

The wise abandon the dark veils of the moving mind and cherish the stillness of the luminous heart.
They leave unreliable securities behind and persue freedom from mental entanglement.

To focus on such release is difficult and rare yet the wise incline this way, letting go of obstructions and purifying heart and mind.

